Camel Trekking In Morocco Sahara and Desert : Merzouga & Erg Chebbi

The Berbere "Nomades" invite you to discover the magic of the Berber country and to see the desert through a window of authenticity. A trip like nothing else you have experienced!

Camel Trekking Morocco, Erg Chebbi Camel Treks Morocco:

The Erg Chebbi sand dunes at Merzouga represent an excellent centre for the exploration of Morocco's sandy or true desert, they are considered to be one of the great sights of Morocco, The Erg Chebbi dunes can be reached most directly from Erfoud through an off-road trail or via Rissani on paved road. The Erg Chebbi desert dunes fascinate Moroccans and foreigners alike. Mention "Merzouga" anywhere in Morocco and people will tell you of the power of the sands to cure rheumatics who come here to be buried up to the neck in the sand. Widely believed, but never seen! The Erg Chebbi dunes also have a wide-ranging aesthetic appeal; witness the film directors, writers, artists and photographers who struggle to convey their beauty.

The Sunset

The Sunset tour begins around 5:30pm. It takes almost half an hour to reach the sand dunes of Erg chebbi on top a camel. Then, we will leave the camels in about 80 meters to reach the highest dune of Merzouga. For those who want to see a panoramic view they must climb to the top, it will take them another 10 minutes. If you prefer not to hike up the highest dunes, the area around the camel "parking" is perfect to watch the sunset. After having enjoyed that short time we travel back to the village. This tour includes a stop at the garden where you will have a short explanation about the canal system.

The Sunrise

The Sunrise Tour starts early and takes 35 minutes to reach the highest dune of Merzouga. This tour includes a visit to the garden on the way back. For this tour you don't need to set the alarm clock. Enjoy your night and we will come around for a wake-up call.

Camel trekking for ONE Night in the desert

This trip begins in evening, we organize the camel ride for the night in desert from a hotel near the sand dunes, and the camels will be packed with foods, blankets and everything else which we will need. The trek will start right into the desert for 1:30min, We will spend the night in an equipped camp with drums music in the middle of the Sahara, this is a great opportunity to take lovely pictures of the sunset and sunrise, when we arrive at the camp we walk to the high dunes to see the sunset, It will be a magical night when the sky is clear of cover and stars sparkle and shine with intensity. During the first night, there will be a wonderful dinner around a campfire, we will spend the night in nomad tents, in the morning we will ride the camels backing to Merzouga, and you'll have the breakfast and shower in the hotel in Merzouga.

Accommodation

We choose good quality accommodation that combines traditional style architecture and genuine Berber hospitality with modern services and facilities. We use the listed accommodation regularly and are guided by the feedback from our guests.

Riad

Riads are traditional Moroccan houses built around an internal garden and courtyard - peaceful and a wonderful place for guests to relax out of the sun. Riads in Morocco are located in the older part of the cities and provide small guest rooms with en-suite bathrooms. Riads are beautifully decorated in traditional Moroccan style and offer a truly personal service and an intimate atmosphere at the heart of Moroccan culture.

Nomadic Tente

Accommodation in the desert will be in a bivouac, a traditional nomad camp. The tents are made of camel wool, the perfect material for Sahara Desert as their thickness protects from the heat of the sun and when it rains, the wool expands, producing a water-proof material. Basic tent accommodation with no facilities through to luxury en-suite tents is available.

Kasbah Hotel

Outside of the larger cities we stay in traditional style hotels. The hotels provide authentic Moroccan bed and breakfast accommodation. In the more remote areas facilities such as air conditioning and plumbing may not be as reliable as in more developed areas but the genuine hospitality of the Berber people will ensure your stay is comfortable.
